REGULATION

Characteristics of the Residenza Universitaria of the PP. Gesuiti in Venezia

This Residenza Universitaria created of the Society of Jesus welcomes boys and girls from all over the world for their studies at the University of Venice.

Although established and run by a religious order of the Catholic Church, it is a multi-religious and multi-cultural university Residenza.

According to the style and orientation of the Jesuit Order, it wants to be an important opportunity for training and openness of mind and heart, in a comparison of the values frank and respectful of other peoples.

In particular, for the purpose of growth in adult life of the guests of the Residenza, students are given responsibility to organize your life, in a spirit of freedom, respectful coexistence. Therefore, students possess the keys of the house, are self-sufficient for the kitchen, and are invited to the responsibility for everything that is common.

Are expected and encouraged, as well as personal conversations with the director, training and organizational meetings monthly and those in collaboration with other University Colleges.

Basic rules for living in the Residenza

In this list some rules to make it more orderly, dignified and responsive to the purposes of the Residenza especially appropriate to ensure an environment conducive to personal growth and study.

Preamble

The Direzione, in the figure of the Director and his staff, are made available in various ways to follow the path of human maturity, intellectual and spiritual guests.

Are favoured and encouraged all those initiatives and practices that facilitate the union, the healthy growth and integration of the guests. Are abhorred all initiatives or behaviour which may constitute impediment.

Participation in training meetings and / or organization is mandatory. Any impediments are agreed with the Director of Residenza or, if absent, with his collaborators.
